*Definition of parent(s): A parent is a biological or adoptive parent or a person that the state has determined to be a parent (for example, when a state allows another person's name to be listed as a parent on the birth certificate). Use the information from the parent with whom you lived longer, during the 12 months prior to the date that you signed your FAFSA. If you lived with neither parent, then use the information for the parent who provided more of your support.

If the parent whose information you use on the FAFSA application has remarried – your parents (for financial aid purposes) are the biological parent and the stepparent. If your biological and/or adoptive parents are not married, but are living together, include both on your FAFSA application, as well as on this form.
